

CECP Speakers Bureau

Nandika Madgavkar

Senior Director,
CEO Investor Forum
CECP

As Head of CEO Investor Forum at Chief Executives for Corporate Purpose, Nandika Madgavkar oversees CEO-engagement, investor relations, sustainable finance and thought-leadership. Leveraging her knowledge and expertise in responsible business, Nandika is in charge of forging new and deepening current relationships within CECP's network of partners, while engaging CEOs and investors in re-orienting the capital markets towards the long-term. From industry-leading research to investor mobilization, the CEO Investor Forum provides companies with forward-looking advisory services that prioritize long-term planning (a 3-5 time horizon). The Forum is also renowned for its dynamic platform for CEOs to communicate their long-term business strategy. The CEO Investor Forum is proud of its lead role in preparing the capital markets for the purpose-driven economy. To learn more visit ceoinvestorforum.com

Nandika also leads CECP's Diversity and Inclusion efforts which includes providing strategic guidance to CECP affiliated companies as well as working on organizational practices internally.

Nandika has extensive experience building CSR strategies, crisis and reputation management, advocacy engagement and communications and marketing having worked most recently for MetLife and Citigroup. Her background and training as a journalist have facilitated an ability to observe, listen and ask questions that engage and motivate leaders and employees across companies to act towards positive change. LinkedIn recently recognized Nandika as an influencer given her prolific views on that medium.

Nandika served on the board of the United Neighborhood Houses of New York City, and was Executive Advisor to the Global Multicultural Professionals Network at MetLife. She is passionate about gender issues and human rights.

Areas of Expertise

As a seasoned practitioner in multiple corporate responsibility roles in both the public and private sector, Nandika can share valuable insights, real world examples, and practical approaches to audiences of any size on topics including:

- Long-Term Plan Presentations
- Investor Communications
- Long-Term Value Creation
- Board-Level & Senior Management Engagement around CSR
- Advocacy Engagement
- Employee Engagement
- Masterful Story-Telling
- Diversity & Inclusion

Recent Speaking Engagements

- The Content Council
- CECP Summit
- Corporate roundtables
- New York University
- Columbia University

> To submit a speaker request for Nandika, please email info@cecp.co with an event description and date.

CECP Speakers Bureau

Nandika Madgavkar

Senior Director,
CEO Investor Forum
CECP

Specific Speaking Topics

Taking the Long-term View: Linking Purpose & Profit in Investor Communications

There is a shift underway in capital markets around the world with a growing number of institutional investors looking to companies to provide information on their strategies for the long-term. How will the world's largest companies innovate and adapt to long-term changes in the marketplace? How are they driving sustainable value creation? Nandika can speak to a new platform launched by the CEO Investor Forum offering chief executives of the world's largest publicly traded companies an opportunity to present their long-term plans to long-term-oriented investors.

Diversity & Inclusion

As an immigrant to the United States, Nandika's personal journey navigating corporate America and her passion for gender equity, inclusion and cultural understanding, makes her a compelling speaker on the topic. She is a graduate of the Asian Pacific American Leadership Institute and has supported diversity and inclusion efforts as a personal passion both at Citigroup and MetLife. She leads CECP's Diversity & Inclusion efforts.

Engaging Your Stakeholder Through Story-Telling

What does it take to tell a compelling story? From the headline to the conclusion, Nandika can help you craft that narrative, while identifying the protagonist and the channels that are right for you at your stage in the journey. Based on her experience elevating Citi's Community Development organization and building MetLife and MetLife Foundation's corporate citizenship narrative, Nandika has some interesting tips and tricks to share.

