

CECP Media Contact:

Katie Leasor

kleasor@cecp.co

Leading Global CEOs to Share Integrated Long-Term Business Plans on Climate Change with Investors; Siemens US (OTCMKTS: SIEGY); Exelon (NASDAQ: EXC), Nestle (OTCMKTS: NSRGY) and More

June 15, 2023

What: Chief Executives for Corporate Purpose's (CECP) 11th CEO Investor Forum focused on climate will be held November 14-15, 2023. CEOs will share Integrated Long-Term Plans including key forward-looking metrics specifically on their company's future growth, strategy, and risk, three to five years out with institutional investors and companies.

Why: To meet the needs of institutional investors looking for companies forward-looking strategies on climate, including material financial, as well as non-financial, metrics around sustainability efforts and risks.

Who: The audience of leading institutional investors will see Integrated Long-Term Plan presentations delivered by, but not limited to:

- Barbara Humpton, CEO, Siemens USA
- Calvin Butler, CEO, Exelon
- Mark Schneider, CEO, Nestle

Additional speakers include:

- Daryl Brewster, CEO, CECP
- Nili Gilbert, Vice Chairwoman, Carbon Direct
- Leo E. Strine, Jr. Of Counsel in the Corporate Department, Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz
- Moses Choi, Director, RBC Capital Markets, Sustainable Finance Group

Where: Convene, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY

When: November 14 (hybrid) & November 15 (online only), 2023

How: Investors and media can register for free and watch in person or virtually. Those interested can register here.

Editors' Note: speakers are available for interviews before and after the sessions, on site or virtually.

###